

Children: Public Law Update (October 2013)

An update for Family Law Week

25th October 2013

Barristers

John Tughan KC

In this update John Tughan considers recent cases that touch upon the following issues:

- the proper approach to the gathering of evidence from witnesses who do not speak English
- the use of technology to allow the court to hear evidence from remote parts of the world
- the role of experts and the need for focus on the relevant issues
- the presence of the media in proceedings
- the decision of Re B related to a care appeal
- the case of Re B-S.

To read the full article click here

Author

John Tughan KC

Source

Family Law Week