

AB v AB (Child : Enforcement of Foreign Order : Algeria)

[2015] EWHC 2422 (Fam)

03/07/2015

Barristers

Michael Gration KC

Practice Areas

International Children Law

A father was not granted an order that his child, who had always lived in England with her mother, should move to Algeria. Although the father had an Algerian order requiring that the mother facilitate contact with the child in Algeria, it was not in the child's best interest to make the order sought.

To read the judgment click here.

Permission

