

One Hundred Years of Women's Suffrage: Where to Next?

6th February 2018

Jo Delahunty QC is amongst a distinguished panel of speakers at St. Hughs College, Oxford University tonight. The College is hosting a roundtable discussion to celebrate the centenary of this crucial milestone in the development of British democracy, with a panel discussion led by accomplished alumnae from each of Oxford's former women's colleges. To book a place click here