

Anita Mehta and Olivia Piercy write for Financial Remedies Journal

20th October 2023

In an article published in the Financial Remedies Journal, Anita Mehta (4PB) and Olivia Piercy (Hunters Law) ask whether it is time to consign the gasp factor (when analysing conduct in financial remedy proceedings) to the history books.

Within the article they also give the details of a multi-disciplinary working party they are forming in their roles at Resolution, to look first at the treatment of economic abuse within financial remedy proceedings.
