Profile

Jacqueline is a leading junior who specialises in the field of international children law. She is ranked in Band 1 for children law in Chambers and Partners and Band 1 in the Legal 500. She is also one of four Barristers only who specialise in children work to be ranked in The Spear's 500 2021 Directory. She has been shortlisted for 'Family Law Junior of the Year' at the Chambers UK Bar Awards (2017), 'Family Law Junior of the Year' at Jordans Family Law Awards (2017), 'Legal Commentator of the Year' at Jordans Family Law Awards (2013) and 'Young Barrister of the Year' at Jordans Family Law Awards (2012).

Over the years, Jacqueline has appeared in a significant number of the most important decisions in this jurisdiction (and abroad) relating to the development of international children law. Jacqueline's practice encompasses international child abduction (Hague and non-Hague), the recognition and enforcement of foreign orders (under BII(bis) and 1996 Hague Convention), jurisdictional disputes, relocation, forced marriage and international contact disputes. Running alongside her international practice, she also has a substantial practice in private children law disputes. She appears regularly in the High Court, and has also appeared in the Court of Appeal and the UK Supreme Court.

In addition to her domestic practice, Jacqueline has appeared before the Court of Justice of the European Union in UD v XB [2019] C-393/18 (PPU), where she made oral submissions to the court. She has also filed an amicus curiae brief in the first ever Hague Convention 1980 case to be heard in the United States Supreme Court: Abbott v Abbott [2009] (judgment in USSC 17th May 2010), as well as a further Hague Convention 1980 case before the United States Supreme Court: Chafin v Chafin (Case no. 11-1347).

Jacqueline often appears against more senior Barristers, including QCs. More recently, Jacqueline has started to accept leading briefs – she has had three leading briefs in the Court of Appeal (in relation to important legal issues in the field of international children law) and one leading brief in relation to a complex High Court wardship case.

Jacqueline's lectures in this jurisdiction and abroad, and has given expert evidence on three occasions in the House of Lords as to the impact of Brexit on European family law. She is a Fellow of the International Academy of Family Lawyers, a member of the International Family Justice Committee and the FLBA international sub-committee. She is also an editor of Rayden & Jackson (the international children law section), and writes the 'International Children Law Update' for Family Law Week.

To date, Jacqueline has appeared in over 50 reported cases in this jurisdiction:
